Conference Protocols & Courtesy

Wearing your conference badge throughout the conference helps foster a connected and professional atmosphere.

Your timely presence at scientific sessions allows everyone to benefit fully from the carefully designed program.

To ensure a comfortable learning environment, please keep mobile devices on silent mode during sessions.

Coffee breaks and lunch provide valuable opportunities for networking, collaboration, and informal discussion.

Returning promptly after breaks helps maintain the flow of the scientific program and respects the time of speakers and participants.

Prayer facilities are available throughout the venue for your comfort and convenience.

Courtesy, professionalism, and mutual respect are at the heart of this event and contribute to a positive experience for all.

Thank you for being part of this conference

Targeting Aldosterone Production
Aldosterone Synthase Inhibitors

Aldosterone dysregulation is the inappropriate or excessive production of the hormone aldosterone relative to renin levels, acting as a major driver of uncontrolled and resistant hypertension.

It is the underlying mechanism responsible for:

1. Uncontrolled/resistant hypertension
2. Kidney function decline and cardiovascular risk
3. Residual risk

Aldosterone blockade prevents kidney injury and currently can be achieved by:

- Mineralocorticoid Receptor Antagonists (MRAs), or
- Aldosterone Synthase Inhibitors (ASIs)

The trials involving these two approaches to aldosterone blockade and their pros and cons will be reviewed.

The 18th International Congress of Arab Society of Nephrology and Renal Transplantation

in Joint with

The 5th International Conference of Iraqi Society of Nephrology and Renal Transplantation

Participant Instruction

The 18th International Congress of the Arab Society of Nephrology and Renal Transplantation, held in joint collaboration with the 5th International Conference of the Iraqi Society of Nephrology, is CPD-accredited by national and international institutions.

To ensure proper participation tracking and certificate eligibility, please carefully follow the instructions below:

- All participants are required to register online through Eleganza Experts using the official registration form.
- Upon registration, each participant will receive a personalized barcode on their badge during the badge collection process.
- Badge collection at the venue will be recorded electronically and considered the first point of attendance.
- Attendance will be monitored throughout all three conference days.
- To receive the Certificate of Attendance, participants must complete the required hours of attendance over the three days.

We encourage all attendees to fully engage in the program and benefit from the wealth of the scientific content and networking opportunities. Your commitment enhances both your professional development and the collective success of this international event.
